Natural Forces is hosting an open house to provide information on the proposed Aulds Mountain III Wind Project. The proposed Project is located in Piedmont, and would be comprised of up to 12 wind turbines, which would generate power for an estimated 17,000 Nova Scotian homes.

This open house event is being hosted to provide members of the public an opportunity to drop in and learn about the proposed Project. Information will be displayed and staff will be present to answer any questions and collect feedback about the Project.

COVID-19 safety protocols will be in place during the open house, and masks will be mandatory.

ABOUT US

The Project is being developed by the partnership between Natural Forces and Wskijnu'k Mtmo'taquow Agency Ltd (WMA), a corporate body wholly owned by the 13 Mi'kmaq bands in Nova Scotia.
